†Original notice of the question was received in Hindi.

was Rs. 2500 crore. This has been enhanced to Rs. 2800 crore for 2001-02. For the year 2002-03, the allocation for PMGY is kept at the same level of Rs. 2800 crore. The State-wise allocation of ACA for PMGY for 2000-01, 2001-02 and 2002-03 are enclosed (Statement I, II and III) (See below).

(e) The concerned Central Ministries and Departments brought out guidelines for implementation of the six sectoral programmes under PMGY by the States and UTs during the last two years. Proposals were formulated by the States and UTs as per the guidelines of the various schemes under PMGY and were sent by them to the concerned Central Ministries for approval. On approval of the proposals/targets fixed by the States and UTs, the Central Ministries recommended release of ACA to the State and UTs.

For the Annual Plan 2002-03, a revised set of guidelines on PMGY have been formulated by the Planning Commission and circulated to the States and UTs.

Under these guidelines, the States and UTs will have freedom and flexibility to not only decide their own interse allocation of their ACA among the six components of PMGY but also decide the specific schemes and programmes which they would like to take up for implementation under PMGY.
